KENTUCKY DIVORCE

Eligibility for Divorce in Kentucky

Persons residing in Kentucky and Soldiers stationed in Kentucky for at least six months may file for divorce in Kentucky. If you live on the Tennessee side of Fort Campbell, you should file in Tennessee. To obtain a divorce, the parties must be separated for at least 60 days. Separation may include living in the same house so long as no sexual contact between the parties is involved.

Grounds for Divorce

Kentucky is a “no fault” state. The only basis for divorce is marital breakdown with no reasonable prospect for reconciliation. The court will decide whether the marriage is irretrievably broken. Before granting a divorce, the court may order the parties to attend a conciliation conference. You and your spouse are encouraged to consider counseling and reconciliation. Contact your unit chaplain. You may also obtain marital counseling through the Department of Social Work Service.

Cost and Length of Divorce

The cost to obtain a divorce depends primarily on whether it is uncontested or contested. An uncontested divorce is one in which the parties agree to all matters. A contested divorce is one in which the parties are unable to agree on at least one issue. In general, an uncontested case will cost about $350-$600. Since the cost may be much greater for contested cases, couples should attempt to discuss and agree upon key issues to reduce the cost of a divorce. If you decide to hire a private attorney, make sure you discuss the cost of the divorce. Ensure you understand what legal services you receive for the quoted fee. An uncontested case with no children averages 45 days. An uncontested case with children averages 75 days. Contested cases may take much longer.

Support Requirement

Until a divorce is final, a soldier must support his/her spouse in accordance with AR 608-99. The amount of support will be determined by the BAH RC/T schedule, assuming there is no court order or written agreement between the parties. See Family Support info paper for more information.

Divorce Issues

Typical issues to be decided during a divorce are custody and visitation of children, distribution of property (which may include an agreement on how retirement benefits will be divided), who pays what debts, child support (there are state guidelines which the court almost always follows), who gets the dependent tax exemptions, and relocation of the non-military spouse. The final divorce decree will also contain a parenting plan.

New Wills

If you are in the process of obtaining a divorce or you just finalized one, it is advised that you execute a new will. This will ensure that your assets are distributed in accordance with your wishes.

You should file your case with the Circuit Court Clerk or Family Court Clerk of the County where you reside

To start your case you will need the following forms:

AOC-105: Civil Summons

Form #1A: Petition for Dissolution of Marriage
