ABOUT THE FOREST

The Cleveland National Forest, one of 18 National Forests in Region 5, is the southern-most National Forest in California. It is divided into the Descanso, Palomar and Trabuco Ranger Districts and is located in the counties of San Diego, Riverside, and Orange. The Cleveland National Forest is approximately 465,000 acres in size and extends from Orange/Riverside County to the north to within 5 miles of the Mexico border on the south.

SUPERVISOR'S OFFICE

San Diego is the eighth-largest city in the United States of America and second-largest city in California. The city is located on the coast of the Pacific Ocean in Southern California, immediately adjacent to the Mexican border. San Diego is known for its mild year-round climate, natural deep-water harbor, extensive beaches, long association with the U.S. Navy, and recent emergence as a healthcare and biotechnology enclave.
