

Hello Professional,

Hope you're doing well. Please let me know if you are interested in this requirement.

-If Yes, Please send me your resume along with your contact information.

If No, please feel free to pass on this email to your friends or Colleagues who might be interested.

Title: Sr. ETL Developer

Duration: 6+ Months

Location: West Chester PA

Job Description:

Hands on experience with technical design, coding and delivering enterprise class data management systems Informatics (9.x) ETL Design and Development experience and strong ability on using the right mix of functionality and promoting re-usability

Experience in Enterprise Data warehouse (EDW) or Data Mart DM implementation

Experience creating and reviewing ETL design and mapping specifications documents

Strong PL/SQL skills

Design, development and implementation of complex data management and reporting solutions, with integrated UI and workflow components.

Demonstrated experience with design and construction of data interfaces from transactional legacy systems into a dimensional data model.

Promote design of re-usable components and services

Ensure software projects are completed according to project requirements and are properly documented with traceability through project specifications including functional and technical documents.

Provide Level 2 production support on a rotating basis.

Provide IT representation with internal customers and USFS IT areas.

Participate in architecture and design sessions with team members and peers.

Interact and work directly with customer team members on projects and support issues.

Build relationships with business customers and peers across the IT organization.

Facilitate communication upward and across project teams including project status.

Follow change management and problem management processes.

Assist in the definition and implementation of architectural improvement measures within the environment.

Propose and institute software development process improvements.

Who is our ideal candidate? Who is our ideal candidate?

10+ years of design and development of Data integration using Informatics Power center tools, Oracle PL-SQL

5+ years Data Mart design and development

5+ years report design and development

Experience writing stored procedures and tuning queries.

Strong Experience with Informatics.

Financial, insurance industry or actuarial experience

Pluses

IDQ (Informatics Data Quality)

Experience with Java.

Experience with Business Objects.

Data warehouse experience.

Shuja Ali (Technical Recruiter)

Panzer Solutions LLC

50 Washington Street,9th Floor,

SONO Corporate Center Norwalk CT 06854

Email: shuja.ali@panzersols.com

<http://www.panzersolutions.com/reviews>